NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

November 3, 2024

Mainnet, Ethereum (BRK) –

Barren Wuffett, half-brother to legendary investor Warren Buffett, proudly announces the launch of BRK690k, a groundbreaking memecoin project aimed at achieving what Berkshire Hathaway accomplished in over 40 years—reaching the milestone of $690,000 per share—at record speed. Barren Wuffett's vision brings a bold, humorous twist to the investment world, leveraging the viral appeal and community-driven power of memecoins.

BRK690k begins with an initial liquidity pool on Uniswap v3, creating an open invitation for crypto enthusiasts and meme investors alike to join Wuffett in his ambitious journey. "While Warren's approach to investing has been steadfast and traditional, I'm here to show the world that memecoins can achieve in months what took Berkshire decades," Wuffett remarked.

BRK690k has been launched as a fair, transparent initiative, with no tokens reserved for insiders—not even for Barren himself. The memecoin opens at a starting price of approximately $245, echoing Berkshire Hathaway's stock price in the summer of 1979. This fair launch approach ensures that every investor has an equal opportunity to participate from day one, underscoring BRK690k's commitment to community-driven growth.
